All the parties are colored. The only explanation of their fate is that they were supposed to have been implicated in numerous harn-burnings which have taken place in Monroe and Lincoin counties recently. There is no clue as to the perpetrators of the deed.

Ned Waggoner was a rather large negro, and it is supposed the first attempt of the lynchers was unsuccessful in his case, as a broken rope with a hangman's knot in it was found under the tree near him, and another one had been procured from the well-bucket of a near neighbor, by which rope he was found hanging.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., November 4.—
The people of Knoxville were greatly excited when they read this morning of the attempted robbery of an express train at Coal Creek on the Knoxville and Ohio road last night.

The plot to rob the express originated with F. W. Gerding, who served for a long time as a delivery-clerk in a local express-office here. Jim Smith, his pai, who gave the snap away and put the authorities on to it, is a bar-room loafer. He paid dearly for it, as he is in a hospital here, and will die. Gerding belongs to a respectable family, which once possessed considerable wealth. He is in the Knoxville jail, and will pay the penalty of his crime. and although painful, his wound is not considered very serious.
Superintondent Spaulding of the Southern Express, speaks in the highest terms of the coolness and courage of the Knoxville police who were in the express-car when it was attacked by the robbers.
The time and place for the robbery were well-selected, being at night, and at a water-tank a considerable distance away from the village of Coal Creek. Had not the express and railroad officials been previously notified of the attempted robbery and provision made to prevent it, it would doubtless have been successful. There was comparatively little currency in the express-car at the time. The defeat and capture of the robbers was so complete that it serves as an emphatic complete that it serves as an emphatic varning to all who may think of at-empting a like robbery in the future.

business conducted by B. F. Johnson & Co. to the Richmond concern:
"I have just purchased the entire interest of the Historical Publishing Company, of Philadelphia and St. Louis, in the business of B. F. Johnson & Co. About two years ago a syndicate arrangement was effected with this concern, and it has worked very weil, our net profits being more than 20 per cent. on the capital invested during last year. While the arrangement has proved an advantage being more than 20 per cent. on the capital invested during last year. While the arrangement has proved an advantage in reducing the cost of manufacturing goods, it has proved disadvantageous in some other respects—in taking from Richmond, for instance, a large part of the work formerly done here. The business relations between the publishing house and myself have been very pleasant and entirely satisfactory to all parties. When I entered into such an arrangement I felt it was a good thing to do. I believed it would enable me to conduct business in a more economical and satisfactory way than I had been able to do before. To a certain extent this has proved true, but circumstances have so shaped matters recently that I have considered it best to sever my connection with other houses and resume business as an independent and distinctly southern concern, although we do business in every State in the Union, and at certain seasons much of our most profitable work is done in northern and western States. We have plans in contemplation under which we shall extend our operations as rapidly as the still unsettled condition of business generally will justify. There will be no change in name or style of firm."

It is understood that the purchase of the interest of the Historical Publishing Company will result in the giving employment to a large number of hands by Mr. Johnson.

numerous victims.

They are often born with it. Sleep and rest are out of the question. Most remedies and the best physicians generally fail, even to relieve.

If CUTICURA did no more than cure Eczema, it would be entitled to the gratitude of mankind. It not only cures but

A single application is often sufficient to afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure.

CUTICURA works wonders because it is the most wonderful skin cure of modern times. Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, Zúc.; RESOLVENT, $1. POTTER DEUG AND CHER. CORP., Sole Props., Boston. "All Bloot the Skin and Blood" mailed free.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET. NEW YORK, November 4.-With the exception of Chicago Gas and General Electric, which scored fractional losse at the opening, the Stock Market was firm. The strength was the result of covering of short contracts by some of the timid bears, and an impression that the bank statement would be favorable. sides this, stocks were rather scarce for borrowing purposes, and the room traders, ever ready to catch the clustve 8-per-cent., bid up prices generally. In the improvement which followed Chiago Gas, Lackawanna, Sugar, Western Inion, New England, end the Grangers were most prominent. The gain at this were most prominent. The gain at this time ranged from 162% per cent. For a while the market ruled firm, but the advance in the posted rates of sterling exchange of 1/4c., to $1.82-something extraordinary for a Saturday, gave the bears another chance, which they were not slow to take advantage of. Chicago not slow to take advantage of. Chicago Gas was singled out as being most vulnerable, and in less time than it takes to tell, the stock was forced down 3% per cent, to 81%. The old receivership story was revived, but it found few believers Probably the report which had most effect was one announcing that the company will be compelled, owing to its contract with the city of Chicago, to reduce its price 5 cents per thousand on January 1st. It is said the company is paying its dividends in scrip instead of cash during this fair year, when an enormous profitable business was expected, and this adds not a little to the bearishness.

Auction offerings on 'Change, 168 packages and 5 rejections, with 33.50 highest and 31.50 lowest. Market steady; offerings inshter, and prices firm.

The feature of the week has been large sales of loose bright at full prices for wrappers up to 85. The market kept up on all grades, fluctuating only on reoffered stock. Breaks were probably far the best in the crop sold. Oolor gradually declined after Wednesday. Thursday was good and Friday off.

A sprinkling of dark sold soveral days at 85c. to 8.55, which showed good color and body, with some dirt on common and medium grades.

The Late Sara Bruce.

Just one week ago one of the fairest, the saintliest of Richmond's lovely daughters, sweet SARA BRUCE, was laid to rest in Hollywood. To those who loved her so devotedly it seems that she is "doubly dead, in that she died so young." "Yet not unmeet it was that one Like that young friend of ours, So gentle and so beautiful, Should perish with the flowers."

How exquisitely does Mrs. Browning de-scribe her in a poem called "A Portrau"; "And her face is lily-clear— Lily-shaped and drooped in duty— To the law of its own beauty. Oval cheeks enclosed faintly,

Which a trail of golden hair Keeps from falling off to air.

Which two blue eyes undershine. Like meek prayers before a shri And if a painter drew her, He would paint her unawars. With a halo round her hair.

And all hearts do pray, 'God love her!' Ay, and always, in good seeth, We may all be sure He doeth!" "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."
